Subject:- Use of Codes as adopted by the Census Department in various databases.

Sir,

I am directed to refer on the subject cited above and to say that a large number of departments are developing/building databases for various developmental works and schemes. Some of these databases are on the basis of Parliamentary/Assembly Constituencies, district, sub-division, tehsil and block. While giving codes to such geographical entities, different departments adopt different methodology which does not allow linking of databases of various departments.

2. In order to facilitate linking of databases based on the geographical entities mentioned above, it has now been decided to use codes adopted by the Census Department for such entities.

3. In case of any clarification, please contact State Information Officer, National Informatics Centre, Haryana, which shall be Nodal Agency for this purpose.

Yours faithfully,

Sd/-

(Rajpal Singh)

Under Secretary to Govt. of Haryana.
